

Autism Day 2018:

In celebration of World Autism Awareness Week, icddr,b organized an arts and crafts exhibition prepared by differently-abled children, to raise awareness and express solidarity with children with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) ahead of the Autism Awareness Day on 2 April. Dr Aliya Naheed, Head, Non Communicable Diseases, icddr,b and representatives from four partner organizations shared their experience with everyone.

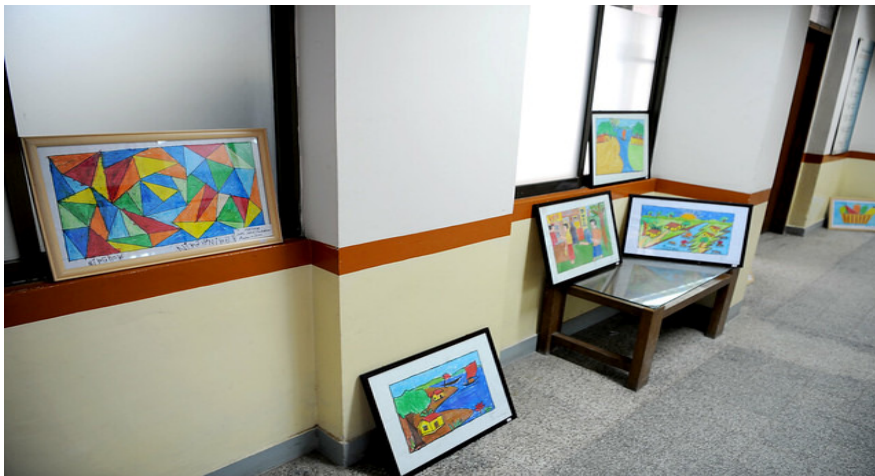

1. Art, craft exhibition at icddr,b marking World Autism Awareness Week

<http://old.unb.com.bd/lifestyle-news/Art-craft-exhibition-at-icddrb-marking-World-Autism-Awareness-Week/66843>

2. GLOBAL HEALTH INSIGHTS

<http://blog.icddr.org/2018/04/02/raising-awareness-about-autism-and-differently-abled-children/>

BMJ award 2017

Dr. Aliya Naheed and her team achieved the award of the best Mental Health Team of the Year for the project Promoting Mental Health Care of the Mothers of Children with Autism Spectrum Disorders in Bangladesh

<https://healthspectrumindia.wordpress.com/2017/11/19/bmj-awards/>

